

Where is Atlanta, Texas?

We're glad you asked! At first glance, you may think that Atlanta, Texas is in the middle of nowhere, but in fact, that's not true at all!

On second look, Atlanta, Texas is nestled in the piney woods of East Texas. We're located just off Highway 59, almost directly between the Dallas-Ft. Worth Metroplex and Little Rock, Arkansas. Atlanta is located about twenty minutes from the growing twin city of Texarkana, USA.

The best part of living in Atlanta is enjoying the small town atmosphere with the possibility of travelling a few hours down the road for a complete change of scenery.

Need a day trip? Just an hour down the road, the cities of Shreveport and Bossier City, Louisiana offer a unique shopping, and entertainment experience.

If city life is more your speed, Atlanta is located about five hours from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Memphis, Tennessee, and Houston, Texas. If you desire a weekend get-away, Atlanta is only 6 hours from all the flavor and excitement of New Orleans, Louisiana. You really can't find a better location for a small town! Make a trip and see for yourself!
